Monsieur le Ministre,

Tōkio, le 21 Janvier 1877.

J'ai reçu la lettre que vous m'avez fait l'honneur de m'écrire le 17 Octobre dernier pour me faire savoir que le Gouvernement Japonais venait d'établir dans les îles Ogasawara (Bojin) un gouverneur chargé de leur administration... J'ai également reçu la copie des Règlements qu'il aura à faire observer par les habitants de cette Colonie.

Je vous remercie de cette intéressante communication. Je prends toutefois la liberté de vous faire observer que les dispositions qu'elle contient ne peuvent s'appliquer à mes nationaux qu'autant qu'elles ne dérogent pas aux Traité conclus entre la France et le Japon.

Agreez, Monsieur le Ministre, l'assurance de ma haute considération.

No. 410.

United States Legation,
Tokio, October 27th, 1876.

His Excellency
Terashima Munenori,
H.I.J.M.'s Minister for Foreign Affairs.

Sir:

Referring to Your Excellency's note of the 17th instant in relation to the regulations for the government of the Ogasawara Islands, I have the honor to enquire if the Ogasawara Islands are the Bonin Islands, or a different group.

I beg leave further to suggest to Your Excellency that the VIIth Article of the Harbor Regulations provides that for any violation of those regulations the offender shall be tried in the government office, and, on conviction, be subjected to a fine of not more than one hundred (100) yen; and that by article XIIIth of the Customs Regulations therein set forth it is provided that offences against these rules shall be tried in the government office, and that the offender, on conviction, shall be subject to a fine of not more than five hundred (500) yen.

Your Excellency will observe that these regulations apply to all offenders, and that foreign ships and citizens are admitted into the open ports of these islands, the "Ogasawara Shima."

By the VIIth Article of the treaty between Your Excellency's government and the government of the United States, of date 29th July, 1858, it is provided that Americans committing offences against Japanese, shall be tried in American Consular Courts, and, when found guilty, shall be punished according to American law.

It must be well known to Your Excellency that this article has always been construed to exclude American citizens from trial and punishment for any offences whatever by them committed in Japan before any tribunals other than American tribunals, and from any punishment other than that prescribed by American law.

I therefore respectfully suggest that these regulations be so amended as to provide that for all offences committed against the same by foreigners the offender shall be arrested and sent by the Japanese officials to the nearest Consul of his government in Japan for trial and punishment.

Signed: John A. Bingham.

I have the honor to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,

No. 430.

United States Legation,
Tokei, November 29, 1876.

His Excellency

Terasuina Munenori,

His Imperial Japanese Majesty's
Minister for Foreign Affairs.

Sir:

In reply to Your Excellency's communication of the 14th inst. in relation to the government regulations for the Ogasawara (Bonin) Islands, I have the honor to acquaint you that I await instructions from my government, having transmitted to the Department of State our correspondence of last month on the same subject.

I beg leave, however, especially to note what Your Excellency remarks in your communication of the 14th instant, that foreigners have no right to visit the Ogasawara Islands without permission. Waiting for the present the question whether Your Excellency's government should close those islands to the commerce of the Treaty Powers after an enjoyment which length for twenty years and assuming that the islands are rightfully a part of His Imperial Japanese Majesty's domain, it necessarily results that foreigners there as elsewhere in His Majesty's Empire are under the protection of existing treaties and entitled to every guarantee thereof; and, among others, to the protection of the treaty provision that for all offences they shall be tried before the courts of their own country in Japan and, upon conviction, be punished according to the laws of their own country.

I beg leave further to remark of the regulations, that the provision thereof (Chapter 1, Article 3) to the effect that land shall not be appropriated on the islands without permission obtained from the government office, nor sold without government permission, ought not to apply to lands entered upon and occupied by foreigners for years past without question from Your Excellency's government. As I am advised there is an American family named Savory now residing in the islands on lands which they have held, improved and owned for forty six (46) years. By all usage such property rights ought to be respected and left undisturbed when peacefully and by implication lawfully acquired as was the case in the instance referred to.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

Signed: John a. Bingham.

Yedo

November 24, 1876.

Sir,

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of Your despatch of the 17th ultimo informing me that in the course of last year your Government had despatched some officers to the Bonin Islands in order to examine their condition; and that your Government now intend to settle emigrants and to station officers in those islands, who will conduct the Government under the Regulations which you enclose.

In acknowledging this announcement of the intention of the Japanese Government to take possession of the Bonin group, I should repeat the verbal representations I have already made to Your Excellency that the rights and liberties of the British subjects now settled on those islands are not affected by this determination. When therefore your Government shall have established its authority there, the said British subjects will be amenable to British jurisdiction, and should be protected by your Government in the enjoyment of the lands and property which they at present possess. Your Excellency will accordingly perceive that certain portions of the Regulations enclosed in your despatch are inapplicable either to the said British settlers, or to other British subjects or British ships who may hereafter visit the Bonin islands.

I avail myself of this opportunity to renew to Your Excellency the assurance of my highest consideration.

Harry S. Parkes,

H.B.M.'s Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary.

(其二) 英國公使ヨリ寺島外務卿宛來翰

Yedo,

December 29, 1876.

Sir:

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of Your Excellency's despatch of the 30th ultimo, on the subject of the occupation, by your government, of the Bonin Islands, in which you state, in reply to my note of the 24th ultimo, that although the British subjects in those islands who "have not been entered on the Japanese register" should be amenable to British jurisdiction in respect to grave offences, it would be difficult to maintain that jurisdiction in the case of such minor offences as those named in the Regulations which you communicated to me in your note of October 17th.

In reply, I should observe that the meaning of the phrase "have not been entered on our register" is not quite clear to me, but it cannot be doubted that all the British subjects at present living on the Bonins, and who settled there many years before your Government determined to occupy those islands, are subject to British jurisdiction, and for any offences which they may commit, whether great or small, they can only be tried and punished by their Authorities. The same may be said of any British subjects who may hereafter visit those islands as under the Treaty all British subjects in any part of Japan are only amenable to the British Courts. If, in consequence of the practical difficulties to which Your Excellency alludes, it should be found necessary to concede to the Japanese Authorities certain powers of control over British subjects in the Bonin Islands which are not exercised in other parts of Japan, the nature and degree of such exceptional powers will have to be exactly defined, and the consent of my Government must be obtained before they can be enforced. The power which Your Excellency proposes to confer on the island authorities of fining British ships or British subjects one hundred yen will certainly require consideration before it can be agreed to.

In proof, however, of my desire to afford the Japanese Government all the assistance in my power in establishing their authority in the Bonin Islands, I should inform Your Excellency that, profiting by the opportunity you afforded me of communicating with the British settlers by the Japanese steamer which proceeded there on the 23rd instant, I instructed them that your Government had now determined to take possession of those islands, and were sending officers to form a Government there; that while as British subjects, they are subject to British and not to Japanese laws, and can only be tried and punished for offences by British Authorities, they should on the other hand show respect to the Japanese officers, and should comply with such directions, involving no breach of British law, which the latter may issue for the preservation of public peace and order. I also added that the occupation of the Bonin Islands by the Japanese Government would not affect the rights of the British Settlers in any way, and that they would therefore be protected by the Japanese officers in the possession of all the lands or property they are lawfully entitled to hold.

I may take this opportunity of mentioning to Your Excellency that, as far as I am informed, the British settlers on the Bonin Islands are limited to Thomas Webb, Charles Robinson, Robert Myers, and their respective families. I understand that another British subject named Richard Millichamp, who is now living in the Spanish island of Guam, claims the ownership of several lots of ground on Peel Island, and that Thomas Webb disputes with Richard Millichamp the ownership of one lot of land on that island, and with a German named Rose the ownership of another lot on Hillsboro's Island. Millichamp is represented in the Bonin Islands by Leesur, a French subject. The British subjects concerned in these disputes have from time to time forwarded their complaints to Her Majesty's Consul at Kanagawa, and the merits of their claims are at present in course of investigation.

In conclusion, allow me to present to Your Excellency the assurance of my highest considerations.

Harry S. Parkes.

H. B. Ms Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary.

別紙乙號（算 I）

INSTRUCTIONS RECEIVED FROM JAPANESE GOVERNMENT ON THE 15TH JULY, 1902 AND PRESENTED TO THE HONORABLE THE SECRETARY OF STATE BY THE JAPANESE MINISTER THE NEXT DAY.

Marcus Island which is situated at 24 degrees 14 minutes north latitude and 154 degree east longitude was included in the group of Ogasawara Jima (known as Bonin Islands) under the name of Minami Tori Shima (South Birds Island) and placed under jurisdiction of the local Government of Tokio in 1898. Public notification was issued to that effect on the 24th July of the same year, and the island was leased to a Japanese subject named Midzutani who had been engaged in catching birds and fish in island since several years ago. Some forty or fifty Japanese including women and children are now settled there.

Under these circumstances, you will call attention of the United States Government to these facts and if the authorization to occupy the island had been actually given, you should request the United States Government to take prompt measure to revoke it in order to avoid unnecessary complication between the two Governments.

密傳 (號11)

INSTRUCTIONS RECEIVED BY JAPANESE MINISTER FROM THE MINISTER FOR FOREIGN AFFAIRS AND SUBMITTED TO HON. DAVID J. HILL, ACTING SECRETARY OF STATE ON THE 24TH JULY, 1902.

Regarding Marcus Island, I am able to give you the following additional information which you are authorized to use such way as you may deem best:

For the last 23 years at least, Japanese fishing and hunting vessels in the prosecution of their business have repeatedly visited Marcus Island and on all such visits, they found the island entirely unoccupied and uninhabited. In 1896, a permanent colony of Japanese, consisting of about 20 persons was established on the island and ever since then the island has been in the complete, continuous, exclusive, undisputed and peaceful occupation of Japan.

and as reported in my previous telegram, the island so occupied was in 1898 brought for the administrative purposes under jurisdiction of the local Government of Tokio. Japanese Government hope the United States Government would agree with them that the facts of the case conclusively establish the validity of our title.

It is assumed, Captain Rosehill's proceedings are taken under title 72 of the United States Revised Statutes, and in that case, you can point out that there was neither discovery, possession nor occupation of the island on the part of Captain Rosehill, and that the island is within the jurisdiction of Japan and is occupied by her subjects.

Japanese Government are sending man-of-war to Marcus Island purely as a measure of precaution to prevent any disturbance or acts of hostility on the part of inhabitants upon arrival of Captain Rosehill. Mr. Ishii, Secretary of the Foreign Office who is on the man-of-war takes at the request of the United States Minister to Japan a letter from him to Captain Rosehill which he prepared under instructions from his Government to advise the Captain not to engage in any conflict and to await diplomatic correspondence between Japanese and the United States.

No. 619.

July 22, 1902.

Captain A. A. Roskill,
Marcus Island.

Sir:

By telegraphic instruction received from the Secretary of State at Washington I am directed, in case a Japanese ship is sent to Marcus Island, to advise you by letter not to engage in any conflict, but await diplomatic correspondence between the United States and Japan.

I am informed by His Excellency, the Japanese Minister for Foreign Affairs, that a Japanese naval vessel will start to-morrow for the Island, not to make trouble but to prevent it. Hence I address you that you may govern your action in accord with the instruction of the Department of State.

This communication will be handed you by an official of the office of the Japanese Minister for Foreign Affairs who will be on board of the Japanese Naval vessel and who will be instructed to deliver it to you.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,

A. E. Buck,
United States Minister.

別紙一號　日本外務省品「ローグナル」保報

The Minami Toushiman,

July 29th, 1902.

Dear Sir:

Towards the middle of this month, Mr. Takubira, His Imperial Japanese Majesty's Minister at Washington, wired to his Government reporting that according to some American persons you were leaving Honolulu by the 11th inst. in an expedition to Marcus Island to which you had just been granted title by your Government.

Immediately on receipt of the above intelligence, the Imperial Government on the one hand, telegraphed to their representative at Washington instructing him to inform the United States Government of the legitimate previous acquisition by Japan of the island, and have decided, on the other hand, to dispatch to the spot a fast cruiser with an official of the Foreign Office on board her for the protection of their rights and in order to meet you and give you an account of our acquisition of the island and also in order to avoid any possible misunderstanding between the Japanese subjects on the island and your crew.

It was under such circumstances and with such ends in view that the Kasagi of the Imperial Navy was ordered to this island under the Command of Captain Sakamoto and that I was commissioned here on board her.

On the eve of our start, Colonel Buck, the United States Minister to Tokyo under instructions of his Government asked Baron Konjura, the Imperial Minister for Foreign Affairs for the transmission of his dispatch addressed to you through the official he was then sending. I was accordingly instructed to hand to you the despatch which I now beg to enclose to you herewith.

The Kasagi left the Bay of Tokyo on the 23rd inst. and it was on Sunday last that we arrived at this island.

Upon your arrival which we estimated would soon follow ours, supposing you had left the Hawaiian port on the 11th as reported, I was particularly instructed to see you and explain to you our title to the island based, as it does, on the following facts:—

"The island popularly known as Marcus Island has been, since comparatively early times, not unfrequently spoken of among the Japanese sailors of the adjacent regions and since 1879 the island has been continually and almost regularly visited by Japanese fishing and hunting vessels and on all such visits the island was found to be entirely uninhabited and unoccupied. In 1896 these periodical visits were turned out into a permanent occupation, more than twenty of our Ogasawara (Bonin) islanders having now resolutely settled in the island, and ever since then the island has been in the continuous and undisputed occupation of Japan. In view of such continued activity on the part of these enterprising people and of the growing importance of and considerable dimension assumed by our interests in these waters the Imperial Government felt the necessity of taking certain official and formal steps to prevent any international complications which long negligence on their part in this respect might possibly give rise to. And in fact such official and formal step was taken in 1898. In the Tokio Prefectural Ordinance dated July 24th of the same year the island was incorporated in the Ogasawara (Bonin) Group and put under the jurisdiction of the Tokio Prefecture, and the name "Miami Torishima" (The Soul's Birds Island) was officially given to it.

Encouraged by this Governmental measure the Japanese settlers set firmer foot on the soil and the consequence was gradual and steady progress of the colonization and extension of the industry in this Japanese possession beyond seas."

"It is now about three days that we have been staying off the island vainly waiting your arrival. We were finally led to suspect that you might not have left Honolulu on the 11th instant as reported. Moreover the coal beginning to fall short it was with much reluctance that we decided to return for coaling without being able to meet with you. I accordingly have to recapitulate in the present note what I should have personally pointed out to you.

I sincerely hope that you will agree with me in thinking that the facts of the case as above stated would conclusively establish the validity of our title. Should they however fail to secure your adhesion I need scarcely call your attention to the fact that the matter should be negotiated through the diplomatic channel between the two Governments and that no measure incompatible with our right of prior possession and occupation should be taken in the meantime. For the sake of precaution I have to ask you that you should take necessary steps against your crew resorting to any hostile acts. On this side Captain Sakimoto and myself have not failed to give order to both the inhabitants and the men whom the Captain temporarily leaves on the island that confident upon your sense of justice they should under no circumstances provoke the citizens of a country with which Japan entertain relations of so cordial neighborhood.

Believe me, Dear Sir,

Yours most sincerely

(Signed). K. Ishii.
Secretary to the Imperial Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

To Captain Rosehill.

Exmo. Señor:

Por un despacho que esta Legación ha recibido del Sr. Shūinamura, Ministro residente del Japón en Honolulu, aparece que el Sr. George Douglas Freeth, Agente de la "PACIFIC ISLANDS COMPANY", firma inglesa, ha contratado un número de trabajadores japoneses que ya se ocupan en la Yela de Clipperton. Se dice que esta Yela se ha puesto provisionalmente, por el Gobierno de Mexico, bajo la dirección de dicho agente. Igualmente se le ha informado al Sr. Shimamura que la mencionada Ysla. perteneceñ, desde el 17 de Noviembre de 1858, al Emperador Napoleon III. y a sus herederos y sucesores en perpetuidad.

Bajo estas circunstancias el Sr. Ministro Shimamura desearia informarse, si en efecto el Gobierno Mexicano ha autorizado al expresado Sr. George Douglas Fleet para que ocupe la expresa Ysla, con el fin de saber á quien dirigirse en caso que dichos trabajadores japoneses tengan alguna dificultad en la Ysla.

Estimaria altamente si su Excelencia, tuviera á bien manifestarme la verdadera condición que ocupa dicha Ysla, para así comunicarla á los representantes de mi Gobierno, con el fin indicado.

Me complazco, en reiterar si su Excelencia, las mas distinguidas de mis consideraciones de respeto y estima.

Memorandum.

In a note dated the 9th of July last, which Mr. Soosichi Hayashi, in charge of the Japanese Legation at Mexico, addressed to the Department of Foreign Affairs of Mexico, he stated, that from a despatch received by said Legation from Mr. Shimanura, then Japanese Minister in Hawaii, it appeared:

That Mr. George Douglas Freeth, Agent of the "Pacific Islands Company", of London, contracted a certain number of Japanese labourers for work on the island "Clipperton";

That it was said that the island had been provisionally put under the control of said agent by the Mexican Government;

That Mr. Shimanura was also informed, that the aforesaid island has been belonging since the 17th of November 1858, to the Emperor Napoleon III and to his heirs and successors in perpetuity;

That, in view of these statements, Mr. Shimanura wished to be informed, whether it was true that the Mexican Government has authorized Mr. Douglas Freeth to occupy the island, in order to know who should be addressed in case of any difficulty being encountered there by said labourers; and

That he (Mr. Hayashi) would feel obliged by being informed, which is the real condition of the island, so that he could communicate it to the representatives of his government.

The Minister of Foreign Affairs of Mexico, while transcribing to the undersigned Mr. Hayashi's note, makes the following statements recommending their verbal transmission to His Excellency the Minister for Foreign Affairs of His Imperial Majesty:

The island "La Pasion", now called "Clipperton", is in the possession of the Mexican Government. Notice having been received, in the earlier part of last year, that some individuals were employed in exporting the guano of said island for account of an Upper-California company, without any permission from the Government of Mexico, the Mexican grubout "Democrita" was ordered to go to that place, to see that the rights of the Republic be respected and to prevent the use of the products of the island without the respective permission. Subsequently the Mexican Government concluded a provisional contract with the representative of "The Pacific Islands Company, Limited", of London, for the exportation of the guano of the island Clipperton, and appointed Mr. George Douglas Freeth official inspector, with the exclusive object of watching over the compliance with said contract and of informing about all that might occur affecting the rights of the Republic in that island.

As Mr. Douglas Freeth has no other powers or faculties, any contract he might make, either in his own name or on behalf of another party or enterprise, must be considered as private; therefore, the Government of the Republic will never and in no way be responsible for such contract nor for its consequences; because, though Mr. Freeth has a commission given to him by the Government, it does not comprehend that of contracting obligations nor of granting rights in the name of the same Government.

Recently the French Legation in Mexico has communicated to Mr. Mariscal, that the Government of that Republic alleges the right of property in regard to said island, founded on titles presented to the Department of Foreign Affairs, which are actually being examined with due attention in order to decide what may be proper.

Legation of the United States
Tokio, Japan December 12, 1900.

His Excellency,

Mr. Kato Takasaki,

His Imperial Japanese Majesty's
Minister for Foreign Affairs.

Sir:

I have the honor to inform Your Excellency that I am in receipt, by yesterday's mail, of an instruction from the Honorable, the Secretary of State of the United States, enclosing copy of a letter from the Honorable, the Secretary of the Navy, stating that a colony of six Japanese, engaged in gathering birds' feathers, had been found by Lieutenant Commander Charles F. Pond, U.S.N., Commanding the U.S.S. "Iroquois", living on one of the Midway Islands, Hawaiian Group, and that there may be a possibility that through such settlement an attempt may be made to establish a foreign claim to the Midway Islands.

While it is hardly to be anticipated that any claim of sovereignty over these Islands will be advanced in consequence of some Japanese subjects taking up their residence there, I am instructed to bring this matter to the attention of Your Excellency's Government and to state that the Midway Islands belong to the United States, having at no time formed part of Hawaii, and that the settlement of Japanese there, referred to in the letter of the Secretary of the Navy, cannot be regarded as affording any basis for a claim to the Islands by the Japanese Government.

Confident that these views of my Government need but to be expressed to meet with the concurrence of the Imperial Government, I avail myself of this occasion to renew to Your Excellency the assurances of my highest consideration.

Signed: A. E. Buck.

(内閣文)

Sir,

I beg to acknowledge the receipt of Minister Buck's note dated the 12th December last, stating to the effect that the Honorable, the Secretary of the Navy of the United States having reported to the Honorable, the Secretary of State that a colony of a certain number of Japanese had been found by the Commander of the U.S.S. "Iroquois" living on one of the Midway Islands, Hawaiian Group, and that there may be a possibility that through that fact an attempt may be made to establish a foreign claim to the Midway Islands, His Excellency has been instructed by the United States Government to bring this matter to the attention of the Imperial Government and to state that the Midway Islands belong to the United States, and that the fact of some Japanese subjects taking up their residence there cannot be regarded as affording any basis for a claim to the Islands by Japan.

I have in reply to state that the Imperial Government have no intention to establish any claim in regard to the sovereignty of the Midway Islands, and that you will be so good as to report to the United States Government in that sense.

Accept, Sir, the assurances of my high consideration.

Given at Tokyo, the 18th August, 1902.

Minister for Foreign Affairs.

別紙丙號 高平公使由リ米國務長官代理宛往報

On August 18, 1902, I received a note from the Japanese Legation of Japan, addressed to the Honorable Secretary of State, the Honorable Secretary of War, and the Honorable Secretary of the Navy, Washington, D.C., in which they informed me that the Japanese Government had issued a circular to all Japanese Consuls in the Pacific Ocean, ordering them to take steps to prevent the United States Government from establishing a claim to the Midway Islands.

Sir:—In reply to your note of the 12th December last, I beg to state that the Japanese Government had issued a circular to all Japanese Consuls in the Pacific Ocean, ordering them to take steps to prevent the United States Government from establishing a claim to the Midway Islands.

My attention having been called to the publication in the newspapers some days ago of a statement to the effect that the United States Government had intention of despatching a war vessel to visit Midway Islands and Wake Island on the Pacific Ocean where a certain number of Japanese subjects was reported to have inhabited there, and also to eject any persons found living on these islands, I have requested for the instructions of my Government as to their disposition in relation to the islands and the Japanese subjects who may be living there. I am now in receipt of an answer from the Minister for Foreign Affairs to the effect that in regard to Midway Islands, the Imperial Government replied to the representations of the United States Minister in Japan in the month of January 1901 that they had no intention to raise any claim on the islands and that as to Wake Island they have also no claim whatever to make on the sovereignty over the island, but that if any Japanese subjects are found on these islands, the Imperial Government expects that they should be properly protected as long as they are engaged in peaceful occupations.

In accordance with the instructions above mentioned, I have the honor to state that while I am not in position to recognize the truth of the whole statement of the newspapers referred to, the Imperial Government will highly appreciate the usual friendship invariably characterizing the relations of the two countries should the United States Government be disposed to cause the necessary instructions to be issued for the protection of Japanese subjects who may be found on these islands in case a war vessel shall be sent there as reported.

Accept, Sir, the renewed assurance of my high consideration.

Department of State,
Washington,

August 26, 1902.

No. 81.

Sir:

I have the honor to make formal acknowledgement of the note, No. 32, of the 18th instant, handed to me by you on that day, in which you advert to a newspaper statement that the United States Government contemplated despatching a war vessel to Midway and Wake Islands in the Pacific Ocean, for the purpose of ejecting the Japanese subjects who are reported to have recently taken up a residence on those islands, and after communicating to me the statement of the Minister for Foreign Affairs to the effect that the Japanese Government has no intention to raise any claim to sovereignty over the Midway or Wake Islands, you say that if any Japanese subjects are found thereon the Imperial Government expects that they should be properly protected as long as they are engaged in peaceful occupations.

The formal statement you make to me that the Japanese Government confirms the reply made to the representations of the United States Minister in Japan in the month of January, 1901, that they had no intention to raise any claim on the Midway Islands and further that as to Wake Island the Japanese Government has no claim whatever to make to sovereignty over it, is very gratifying because recognizing the prior rights of the United States Government to the possession of both of those island groups and because eliminating any contingent assertion of claim or title which might be based upon the fact of adventitious settlement by Japanese subjects. As a matter of fact the Midway Islands were formally taken possession of by Captain Reynolds of the United States Steamer "Lackawanna" on May 28, 1867, since which time the undisputed sovereignty and jurisdiction of the United States thereover has been recognized. As for Wake Island, at the time Commander Taussig of the United States took possession thereof, January 17, 1899, no evidence of the island being inhabited by human beings could be found, although careful search was made. It is obvious, therefore, that any present settlements of Japanese or other persons upon Midway or Wake Islands is subsequent to the formal acts of the United States in taking possession of them and setting up thereon the customary signs of sovereignty.

As I had the pleasure to explain to you, the presence of these persons upon the islands, being independent of any purpose of colonization or assertion of conflicting right or title to them on behalf of another Government, may be found unobjectionable, unless indeed their residence should be found to be or should become incompatible with the use of one or both of these groups in connection with the projected trans-Pacific cable. I added that if for any reasons with which I was not now acquainted, it should become necessary to remove the persons who have taken up unpermitted residence on the island, I was sure that it would be done with the utmost consideration and with the knowledge and perhaps the requested cooperation of the Japanese Government.

I communicated your note to the Secretary of the Navy, by whom I am now informed that the despatch of a vessel to Midway and Wake Islands will not take place for sometime yet, and that in view of the explicit declaration of the Japanese Government that they have no intention of laying claim to sovereignty over either of these island groups, the Navy Department leaves in abeyance the question of deporting the Japanese citizens therefrom. The Captain of the "Adams" will, however, be directed to report fully as to the character of the settlement and in the meantime to treat the settlers with all proper considerations.

Accept, Sir, the renewed assurance of my highest consideration.

Acting Secretary.

D'ordre de son Gouvernement, la Délegation Royale de Norvège a l'honneur de porter ce qui suit à la connaissance du Ministère Impérial des Affaires Etrangères:

Par une dépêche de l'île de Jan Mayn du 16 janvier 1922, M. Haghard Ekeroll a通知 au Ministère des Affaires Etrangères de Norvège, son annexion, en vue d'une occupation permanente, au nom de l'Institut Météorologique de Norvège, d'un terrain sur l'île de Jan Mayn jusqu'à présent non-occupée et non-habitée, située à environ 71° de latitude de nord et de 8 à 9 degrés de longitude d'ouest.

Le terrain est limité en ouest par un diagonal allant droit au sud d'une enseigne d'annexion au sud de Wallrossgjot jusqu'à une enseigne d'annexion près de la baie de Drivved ("Drivvedbukten"). En ce le terrain est limité par une ligne droite allant en ouest-nord-ouest d'une enseigne d'annexion près du Rocher de Président jusqu'à une enseigne d'annexion au nord de la Lagune de Nord. En outre le terrain est bordé par la mer.

La partie du terrain située entre la "Kallberinsel" et le "Turnbucht" a été occupée par l'expédition géophysique présidée par M. Ekeroll depuis le 8 août 1921, et le terrain tout entier, dont la description précédé, a été occupée depuis le 12 novembre 1921. Sur le terrain a été construit au cours de 1921 et de l'automne 1921, une station de télégraphie sans fil.

Danish Legation Tokyo.

To

His Excellency

Vicecount Y. Ushida

Minister for Foreign Affairs

Tokyo

May 12th, 1920.

Sir:

Hearby I have the honour to address myself to Your Excellency on behalf of the Danish Government concerning Denmark's sovereignty over Greenland.

The beginning of Denmark's penetration into Greenland took place in the year 1721 when the Danish clergyman Hans Egede went into said country to bring the Christian gospel to the Eskimo population living there. Through him the trade between Denmark and Greenland was also inaugurated and a private trading company was established, but its sum did not pay the Danish Government; it stopped in and insisted: the said company in every way. This state of affairs lasted for 50 years: when in the year 1774 all the administration of Greenland spiritual, and commercial was taken over by a special Danish Government department. The head object of the Danish administration has always been a spiritual one while the commercial side has been a secondary problem. In fact the trade with Greenland has never shown to be profitable for the Danish State. The export from Greenland is limited to furs and fishery products for which Denmark gives in exchange the necessities of life and the small luxuries of life required by a primitive race.

The natives were soon christened and after this the efforts of the government have been of a civilisatory kind and at the present moment so many schools are established that most of the people are able to write and read. Also a local sanitation department has been established and lately a local government system has been introduced which since the year 1908 has gone over to the natives themselves under supervision of the Danish government officials. The principle of the Danish administration is to protect the native population against the evil sides of civilisation viz spirits, drugs, venereal diseases etc. In order to give the population this protection no person is allowed to enter Greenland without special permission of the Government and not before they have gone through a medical inspection. The result has been that the Eskimos are increasing in number contrary to what takes effect in other places where civilized nations have come in contact with people of a lower cultural standing.

While already in the 18th century the whole of southern Greenland was under Danish administration it was later found that Eskimos were living in northern Greenland, Cap York etc. and the Danish administration was de facto extended also to them. Further the whole of the uninhabited Greenland has been chartered and visited, by Danish explorers but a formal occupation of the whole country has not yet taken place. However it seems important for the interests of the Eskimos and the prestige of the Danish Government that a recognition of the Danish sovereignty over the whole of Greenland can be established.

During the negotiations between Denmark and the United States of America for the sale of the Danish West Indies this matter was broached and a declaration was added in the final convention which reads as follows:

Declaration

"In proceeding this day to the signature of the convention respecting the cession of the Danish West-Indies to the United States of America, the undersigned Secretary of State of the United States of America, duly authorized by his Government, has the honour to declare that the United States of America will not object to the Danish Government extending their political and economic interest to the whole of Greenland.

Robert Lansing

New York, August 4th 1916"

Having obtained this Declaration it was the intention to obtain also from the other powers a recognition of the Danish sovereignty over Greenland. Owing to the world war the moment was however not found favorable for such negotiations. As soon as the armistice was signed the Danish government considered that the moment had arrived to approach the governments of France and Great Britain with the request to have the matter laid before the peace conference at Versailles. While the two Governments were quite in sympathy as far as the reality of the request was concerned they however thought that the peace conference in Versailles would not be the right forum for this question as Denmark had not taken any active part in the war. Consequently the Danish Government has now decided to lay the matter before the governments of the great powers separately.

I shall now feel very grateful to Your Excellency if You will use Your kind offices to obtain the recognition of the Imperial Japanese Government of the Danish sovereignty over the whole of Greenland. The Royal Danish Government is of the opinion that the recognition could take form after the declaration already given by the United States of America and of which I have given the wording above. Simultaneously with this request to the Imperial Japanese Government a similar request has been presented to the governments in London, Paris and Rome.

I avail myself of this opportunity to convey to Your Excellency the expression of my highest consideration.

Signed: Ahlefeldt Laurit.

Légation Royale de Danemark.

Tokio, July 14th, 1931.

Monsieur le Baron,
In 1926, in reply to a communication from the then Danish Minister, the Imperial Japanese Government declared by a note under date of June 24th, that they had no objection to the Danish Government extending their political and economic interest to the whole of Greenland. Declarations were made in similar terms by the Governments of the other principal powers at that time. Disagreements have arisen, however, between my Government and the Royal Norwegian Government concerning the position in law of certain territories in the Eastern part of Greenland about which negotiations have taken place between the two Governments for some time but which it has proved impossible to solve through the ordinary diplomatic channels. The Danish Government therefore on the 3rd of this month proposed to the Norwegian Government that the entire question of territorial rights involved in their dispute be submitted to international arbitration or settlement. They pointed out at the same time that under the treaties in force between the two countries on the procedure in case of disputes it is possible to obtain a final settlement of the question of territorial rights in its entirety without further protraction.

Subsequent to a brief exchange of notes concerning this proposal, the Norwegian Government has now discontinued the negotiations in question by deciding to declare that Norwegian Sovereignty has been extended to certain territories of the Eastern part of Greenland. The said Government has granted police authority in Eastern Greenland at the same time to two Norwegian whalers.

With reference to the above I have the honour, under instructions from my Government, to convey to Your Excellency the following details relative to the matter.

1. Greenland in its entirety was long ago brought within the sphere of Denmark's full territorial rights, a fact which expressed itself in Legislation, in Administration and in Treaties of which some date far back while others are of more recent date.

2. The said position of law was recognized in due course by formal declarations made by the United States of America, France, Great Britain, Italy, Japan and Sweden and other countries have approved of it in different ways expressly or by implication. Norway has also approved of this position of law by treaties with Denmark now in force and has given approval expressly of the Danish territorial rights over Greenland in its entirety in recent times.

The Norwegian assertion that Eastern Greenland is terra nullius was not made till after 1921.

In order to calm the atmosphere, Denmark entered into a treaty with Norway in 1924 by which Norwegian subjects obtained the same rights in Eastern Greenland as Danish subjects. Most favoured nation treatment within the same territorial limits were later granted to Great Britain and France. However, the existing disagreements between Denmark and Norway concerning the position of law of Eastern Greenland were not settled by this treaty.

4. Colonies of Eskimos were founded in Eastern Greenland by Denmark in 1894 and 1924 and sovereign rights exercised to an extent compatible with conditions prevailing there. The assertion that Eastern Greenland is a no man's land open for occupation is consequently lacking foundation.

5. The Norwegian standpoint is mainly based on the Norwegian interest in industry as manifested by 80 hunting huts erected in the occupied territory. However, it is a matter of course that territorial rights already acquired can not be invalidated through certain industry. Furthermore the huts in question are spread over a territory of several hundred kilometers and most of them are merely offering a bare shelter for huntmen during search of hunting districts but not arranged with a view to habitation of a lasting character. It may be added that there are also Danish huntsmen and whalers who dispose of a not inconsiderable number of houses and just partly within the same territory.

6. As the industry referred to above can only be carried on to a comparatively limited extent in view of the nature of the country, more importance should be attached to the extraordinarily extensive scientific work of exploration which has been carried out from Denmark in Eastern Greenland through a period of many years.

7. Denmark is most desirous to accommodate Norwegian activities in Eastern Greenland which fact has been proved in actual practice, more particularly by the treaty of 1924. The Danish Government considers, however, the declaration issued by the Norwegian Government as an encroachment on treaties in force and has lodged a firm protest with the said Government adding that they consider the declaration of occupation and the measures taken in consequence thereof as being without any legal effect whatsoever.

8. On the 11th of this month Denmark has brought the case before the Permanent Court of International Justice asking the Court to decide that the declaration of occupation and the measures taken in this connection are illegal and void.

I avail myself of this opportunity, Monsieur le Baron, to renew to Your Excellency the assurance of my highest consideration.

Signed: Hugo Hergel.

Le 18 juillet 1932.

Monsieur le Comte:
Le Gouvernement norvégien ayant, par proclamation du 12 de ce mois, soumis à la souveraineté de la Norvège, le territoire du Groenland Oriental entre 60° grades 30' minutes et 63° gradiés 40' minutes latitude Nord, j'ai l'honneur, d'ordre de mon Gouvernement, de communiquer à Votre Excellence ce qui suit.

Le Gouvernement danois considère que ladite déclaration d'occupation constitue un empiètement injustifié et une infraction à l'état juridique existant tel qu'il découle des traités en vigueur entre le Danemark et la Norvège. Le Gouvernement danois a protesté vis-à-vis du Gouvernement norvégien et lui a déclaré qu'il considère la déclaration du 12 de ce mois de même que la précédente du 10 juillet 1931 ainsi que toutes mesures prises par le Gouvernement norvégien conformément à ces déclarations comme dénuées de tout effet juridique. Le Gouvernement danois a porté ce différend devant la Cour Permanente de Justice Internationale en demandant qu'elle dise et juge que la promulgation de l'occupation susmentionnée ainsi que toute mesure prise à cet égard par le Gouvernement norvégien constituent une infraction à l'état juridique existant et par conséquent sont illégales et non valables.

Je profite de cette occasion, Monsieur le Comte, pour renouveler à Votre Excellence les assurances de ma plus haute considération.

Légation de Norvège

Tokio, le 1er mai 1933.

Monsieur le Comte,

La Cour Permanente de Justice Internationale a donné, le 5 avril dernier, un jugement par lequel l'occupation norvégienne au Groenland Oriental entre 71 degrés 30 minutes et 75 degrés 40 minutes Nord a été déclarée invalidée.

Par conséquent j'ai l'honneur d'ordre de mon Gouvernement, de faire savoir à Votre Excellence que par Décret Royal en date du 7 avril dernier, le Gouvernement norvégien a suspendu l'occupation susmentionnée, notifiée à Son Excellence Monsieur le Baron Sandhamn par M. Hirsch, alors Chargé d'Affaires à la Norvège, le 11 mars 1931, dans la mesure où l'occupation au Groenland Oriental entre 60° degrés 30 minutes et 63 degrés 40 minutes Nord, notifiée à Votre Excellence par ma lettre en date du 13 juillet 1932. L'autorité de police qui avait été accordée à des sujets norvégiens ainsi que l'autorité accordée au Préfet nommé pour ces territoires, est annulée par le même Décret Royal.

Veuillez agréer, Monsieur le Comte, les assurances de ma plus haute considération.
